Establishes Memorial
to Parents.

Gifts totaling $7,000 have been made by Mrs. Marion Koogler Atkinson of San Antonio, Tex., former resident of this city, to the Susan B. Allen Memorial hospital of El Dorado, Kas. It became known here today. The gifts are a memorial to Mrs. Atkinson's father and mother the late Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Koogler, former residents of El Dorado, and also of this city. The money will provide operating room equipment for the new hospital, the construction of which was begun several weeks ago. Selection of the equipment for the operating room was left to a committee by Mrs. Atkinson. The original gift of $100,000 and a portion of the site was made by Frank S. Allen of El Dorado as a memorial to his mother. Other gifts have been received from residents and former residents of El Dorado.

Mrs. Atkinson is the donor of the magnificent Skinner organ which stands as a memorial to her parents in the First Presbyterian church here.

Prosecuting Attorney Russell M. Whittem filed the brief for the state.

GIANTS WILL STAND PAT ON LINEUP FOR DIAMOND CAMPAIGN

McGraw Boasts One of Strongest Infields in Baseball; Reserves Weak.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 5.—Boasting one of the heaviest hitting line-ups in the major leagues last season, the New York Giants could finish no better than third. The veteran John J. McGraw boasts the loss of a pennant in the weakness of his reserves and the fact that several capable pitchers failed to win.

Thus, instead of making wholesale changes, the little Napoleon has decided to stand pat in preparation for the 1934 race. He values a few live-cub bats for the title. He has failed to win a pennant in six years and doesn't like it.

Unless some youngster strikes the McGraw mind mightily, there likely will not be a change from the 1933 lineup.

With Memphis Bill Terry, the league batting leader, at first; Eugene Cruz at second; Travis Jackson at short and Freddie Lindstrom at third, the Giants have one of baseball's greatest infields. McGraw was thinking of shifting Lindstrom to the outfield and inserting Urban Pickering, a lousy hitter from Birmingham, but some of the best minds doubt he will do it. Eddie Marshall, who hit .300 in 71 games last year, again will hold the utility role.

There isn't a chance of breaking into two outfield jobs. They will be patrolled by Melvin Ott and Fred Leach, a pair of the best. The third post, centerfield, promises to fall to Charles "Chick" Fullis.

If Fullis is not ready to step in, there is Ethel Allen, the former Cincinnati Red, who finished in the utility role last year. Harry Rosenbergs, a 230 hitter from San Francisco, James Bryan, from Springfield and Joe Moore, ready to step in.

Fred Fitzsimmons, Carl Hubbell and Bill Walker form the nucleus of McGraw's pitching staff. Between them, they turned in 53 victories against 25 setbacks last season and were listed among the top-notchers of their league. Pete Dondose, Joe Genewich, Joe Hoving, Clarence Mitchell and Herbert Pruitt round-out a veteran corps of flingers.

Of eleven other various and assorted hurlers, the most promising are John Berle and Lefty Farmhouse, a fast baller who won four of the most of 1930.

Francis Hogan and Bob O'Farrell again will be the bulwarks of the catching staff.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Brooklyn and Fort Wayne, winners of the two halves of the American basketball league season, open their play-off series tonight to determine the professional basketball champion for the year. The series is to go until one team has won four games out of a possible seven. Brooklyn, the first half champion, is the home team for the first two games tonight and Sunday. Richards Asks $50,000 for Series with Tilden

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Vincent Richards, national professional tennis champion, wants $50,000 to return his court to the Big Bill Tilden. Richards called on Promoter Jack Curley yesterday to talk over terms for a series with his former rival, now turned pro, but insisted that figure was his minimum. He also asked that the series be limited to nine matches. "This barnstorming around the country is not in my line," Richards said. "I did it for five and a half months two years ago and with Kozeluh and the $18,000 I got out of the whole trip wasn't worth it."

Break Looms Between Big Ten, North Central

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Battle lines were being drawn for the Western conference today for a fight to the finish with the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools over the issue of athletic control in the Big Ten.

This committee will number thirty-one.

RULE CHANGES MADE FOR COUNTY TOURNEY ON Y. M. C. A. COURT

One New Division Added; Entries for Meet Close on March 9.

F. O. Rudolph, manager of the Y. M. C. A. amateur county basketball tournament to be staged on the Y floor March 10 and 25 announced yesterday that important changes have been formulated for the regulation of the tourney. Several rules have been changed regarding the eligibility of players and entrance of teams in the various classes of competition.

Instead of three classes of play, as previously announced by Rudolph, four divisions will compete. Boys under 14 years of age will play in class D, players between 14 and 15 will play in class C, boys between 16 and 17 will compete in class B and all boys over 18 will play in class A. The entry fees will be $1.00, $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00.

Entries for the tourney will close on March 9 at 5 p. m. and none will be accepted after that time. Drawings will be made for the opening rounds at that time.

Two other rules which will be important to teams entering concerns the eligibility of Harding High school players. Harding varsity team members will be allowed to compete in class A and in no other division. Harding varsity reserves will not be allowed to compete as a team but may play with any team according to their age classification. For interpretation of any rules governing the tournament get in touch with F. O. Rudolph at the Y. M. C. A.

Jack Dillon, famed "giant killer" of Indianapolis, now operates a small cafe near the Miami, Fla., race track.

Case B teams which have shown great strength are Lancaster, the defending champion, Pomeroy, Bluffton, Gomer, Marysville, Fitch (Youngstown), Millersport and several teams in the eastern part of the state.

In the northwest district, Lima, South, Norwalk, Toledo, Toledo, Woodward and Toledo Scott may come through. Cincinnati, Hughes, Middletown, Springfield and Dayton Chamblaine are leaders in the southwest district. Columbus Central and Newark appear to be strong in the central district.

MIAMI, Fla., March 5.—To the somewhat fantastic tale history of this famous winter playground, the boys were prepared to add the 10 round battle of the cracked rib tonight, featuring the ponderous puncher from Italy, Primo Carnera, and the Irishman from Boston, Jimmy Maloney.

Carnera's return bout with Maloney has failed to stimulate either the local little pulse or the cash customers from elsewhere.

Why we spend $2,000,000 to put CAMEL cigarettes in the new HUMIDOR PACK

WE have been in the tobacco business a long time down here at Winston-Salem and we take a lot of pride in the quality of the cigarettes we make.

While we have spent a good many million dollars advertising Camels, we've always held to the old fashioned idea that the thing that really counts is what we put into our cigarette and not what we say about it.

If we know anything about tobacco, and we think we do, Camels contain the choicest Turkish and the mellowest, ripest domestic leaves that money can buy.

In fact we have every reason to be proud of the quality of Camels as they come from the factory, but the remark of an old friend of ours from Denver some time ago emphasized a point that has been the problem of the cigarette industry for years.

As he inhaled the smoke from a Camel we gave him in our offices one morning, he sighed with very evident enjoyment and then asked jokingly, "What is this, a special blend reserved for Camel executives?"

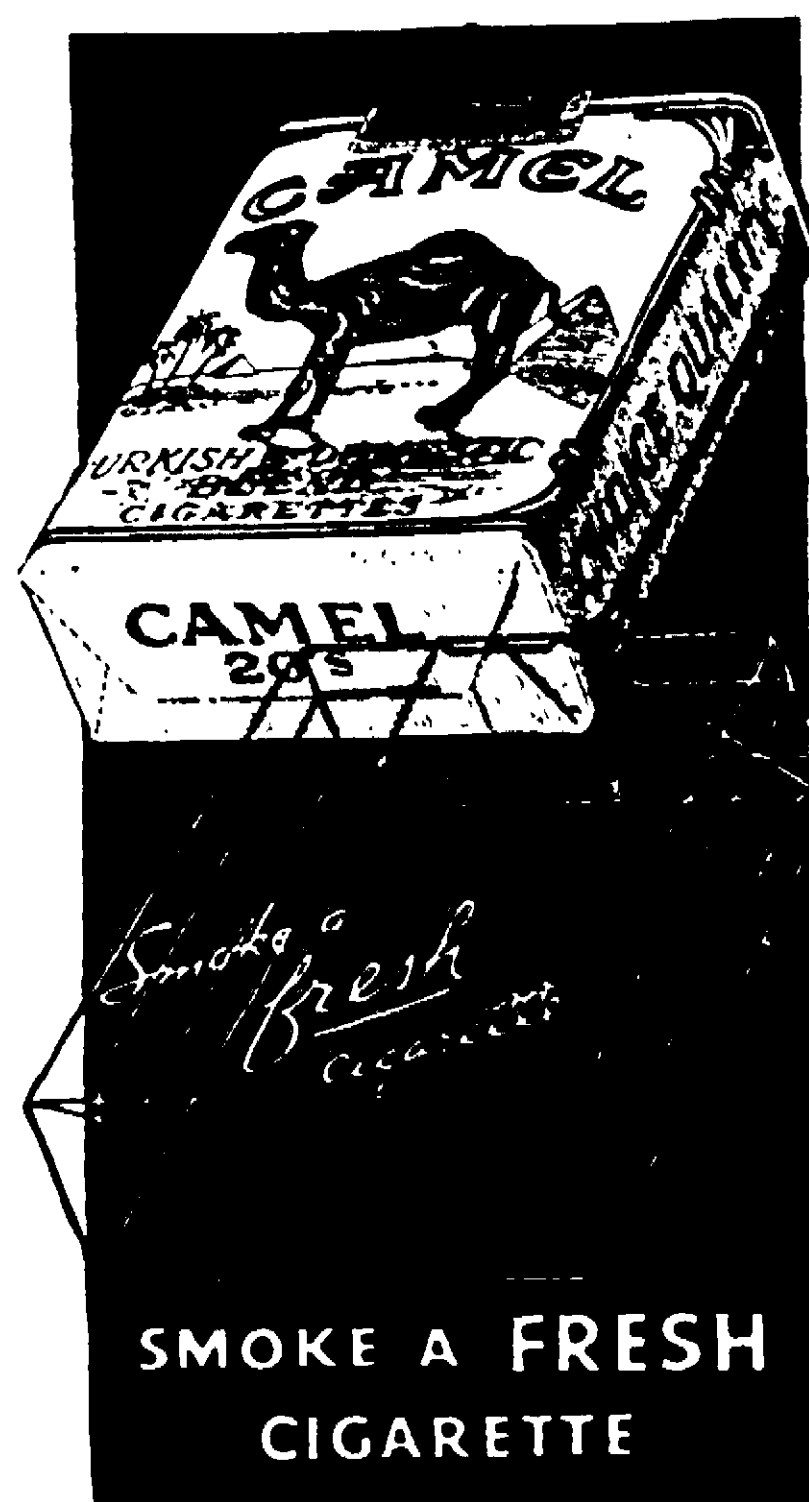

"Certainly not," we told him. "This package of Camels was bought at the corner store this morning."

"Well," he said, "I've been a dyed in the wool Camel smoker for a good many years, but upon my soul I never got a cigarette as good as this in Denver. If you would give the rest of the world the kind of Camels you sell here in Winston-Salem, you ought to have all the cigarette business there is."

THAT statement simply emphasized again the cigarette industry's most important problem. The more we thought about it, the surer we were that he was dead right, and that somehow, something must be done.

Denver wasn't getting a fair break. Neither in fact was any other town. The only people who really knew how good Camels could be, were the folks right here in Winston-Salem.

That was due to a factor no cigarette manufacturer had ever been able to control.

Naturally there is no difference whatever in the quality of the tobacco in Camels, whether you buy them in Winston-Salem, Denver or Timbuctoo. But up to now there has been a very real difference in the condition of the cigarettes by the time they reached the smoker.

The flavor and mildness of fine tobacco depend upon the retention of its natural, not added, moisture content which is prime at about ten per cent.

In spite of our great pains always to make sure Camels left the factory with just the right amount of natural moisture, no cigarette package had ever yet been designed that could prevent that precious moisture from drying out.

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the throat.

- (1) Cheap tobacco.
- (2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobacco because of inefficient cleaning methods.
- (3) A parched dry condition of the tobacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Always certain of the quality of our tobaccos we had already made Camel a "dustless" cigarette by the use of a specially designed vacuum cleaning apparatus exclusive with our factory.

Now, if we could perfect a package that would actually act as a humidor and retain the natural moisture content, then Yuma, Arizona, could enjoy Camels as much as we do here at Winston-Salem.

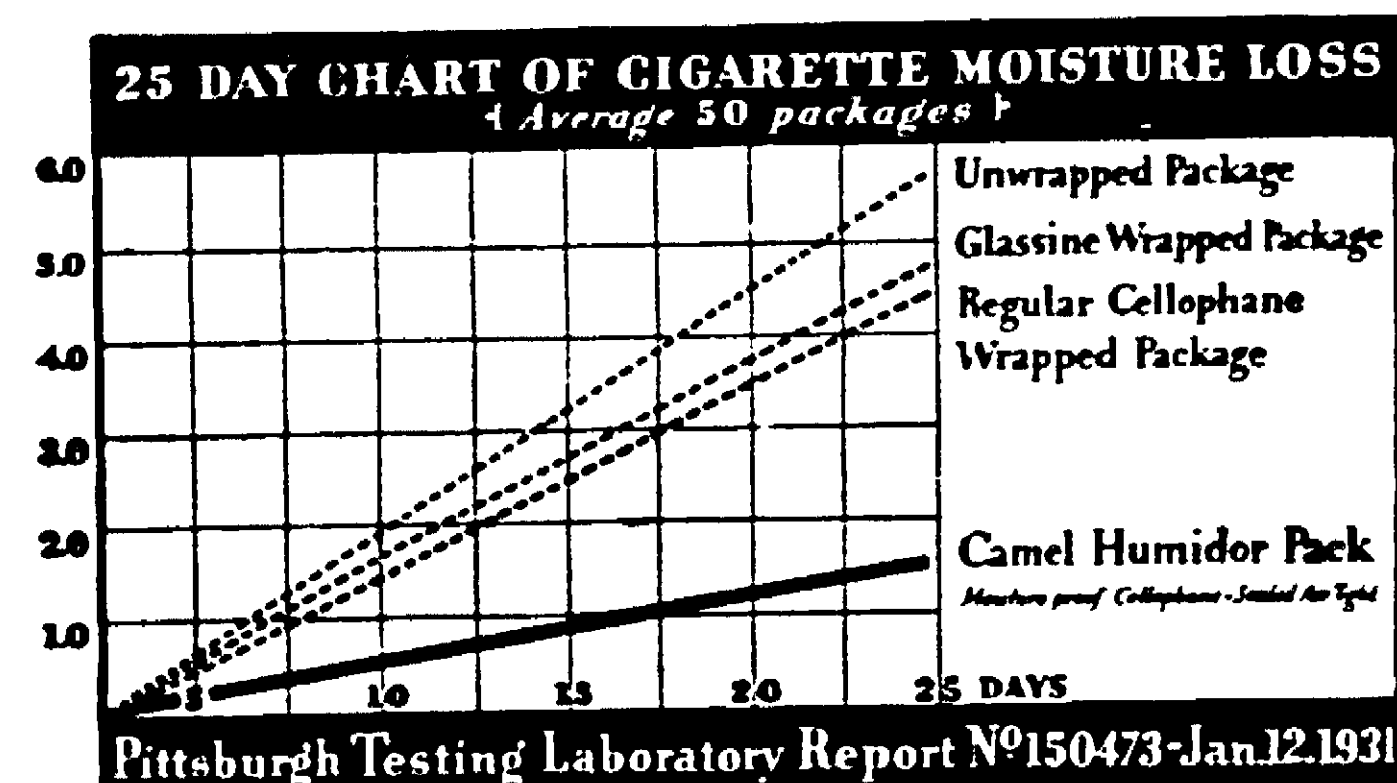

We knew what we wanted. We tried many things. We asked the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory to help us.

After many experiments and humidity tests covering all methods of packing cigarettes came the detailed report of which this is the net:

- (A) No existing cigarette package, including those wrapped in glassine paper or ordinary cellophane, gives anything like adequate protection against evaporation.
- (B) All cigarettes so packed tend to dry out rapidly from the day they are released from the factory.
- (C) Only a waterproof material with a specially devised air-tight seal could give the desired protection. (D) This measure, while costly, could be relied on to keep Camels in prime condition for at least three months in any climate.

If you have a technical bent, the graph below made by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory will show you the exact results of their exhaustive study.

Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

YOU may be sure we gave this report a lot of careful study. We checked it and re-checked it and then we went ahead. We tried this device and that. At last we met success. The air-tight wrapping involved the designing of special processes, special machines.

That costs a lot of money, more than $2,000,000 the first year, but after you have tried Camels packed this modern new way we are sure you will agree it is a fine investment.

For some time now every Camel that has left our factory has gone out in this new Humidor Pack.

We have said nothing about it until now, to make sure your dealer would be able to supply you when the good news came out.

Camel smokers of course have already discovered that their favorite cigarette is better and milder now than ever before.

If you aren't a Camel smoker, try them just to see what a difference there really is between harsh, dried out tobacco and a properly conditioned cigarette.

You can feel the difference, you can hear the difference and you certainly can taste the difference.

Of course we're prejudiced.

We always have believed that Camel is the world's best cigarette.

Now we know it.

Just treat yourself to Camels in the new Humidor Pack and see if you don't agree.

Mattox, Tobin Clash in Health Board Meeting

Member Accuses Relief Officer of Refusing to Give Coal to Family of Indigent Veteran; Department Head Denies Knowledge of Incident.

Charges that a World War veteran had been refused coal to keep his sick baby warm were made against C. M. Tobin, poor relief commissioner, yesterday afternoon by Dr. S. W. Mattox in a regular meeting of the city board of health.

Dr. Mattox is a member of the board.

Mayor L. Don Jones, who is also chairman of the board of health, was notified Monday that the man had been refused coal but nothing had been done about it up to the time of the meeting yesterday.

Dr. Mattox declared the sick child might die from exposure if not kept in a heated room, and that it was impossible for the man to heat the house satisfactorily without coal.

In an answer to the charge, Tobin declared he had no recollection of the man asking for coal, adding that all deserving cases were given relief.

Mayor L. Don Jones promised an investigation would be made and that the veteran would be called in and questioned to learn if he actually had made application for fuel and had stated the circumstances.

"We're doing all possible to take care of the needy of the city," Mayor Jones said. "We want to treat the deserving all alike, war veterans or not."

Marion county has not been affected by the statewide increase in the number of communicable diseases this year, Dr. S. W. Mattox, city health commissioner, reported to the board yesterday. Some sections of the state are suffering from smallpox and other diseases, but Marion county is not, Dr. S. W. Mattox said. Marion, however, has two cases of typhoid fever making it second high to Mansfield with three cases.

WILL REPEAT CLEANUP DRIVE

Campaign This Year To Be Held in April or May.

There will be an intensive campaign next spring, late in April or early in May, was the promise from the office of Mayor L. Jones today.

two weeks, and was county-wide in scope.

Like last year's cleanup, the campaign this year will accomplish the two-fold purpose of brightening the city and giving jobs to dozens of persons without jobs.

The 1933 campaign was launched early in April, in order to make jobs available for unemployed as early as possible. However, the cleanup was slow in getting under way, as spring weather had not yet come to stay. By delaying a few weeks this year Mayor Jones hopes to launch the drive at a time when Marionites are in the mood for a thorough housecleaning of the city.

Officials are satisfied that much good came from last year's drive, as a general cleanup of backyards, lawns and the rights of way along the county highways was accomplished. Housecleaning, painting and elimination of ash piles and rubbish heaps were a part of the campaign.

Last year, the cleanup in both the city and county was in charge of Dr. N. Sifrit, city-county health commissioner. Village groups throughout the county were organized to cooperate and make the campaign general.

GIRL FAILS IN SUIT FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

Jury Returns Verdict for Defendant in Common Pleas Court.

A verdict in favor of the defendant was returned by a jury in common pleas court yesterday in the $10,000 damage suit brought for Imogene Campbell, 10, by her father, Charles Campbell, against Harry Lust, Marion county farmer.

Damages were asked of the defendant following an accident on Aug. 14, 1929, when the girl's legs were cut by a mowing machine on a farm Lust had leased. The machine at the time was being operated by Henry Schiller, an employee on the farm.

Negligence was charged in the petition.

Both of the girl's legs were cut and a bone in the right leg was entirely severed.

The Campbell at the time of the accident lived on a portion of the farm and the girl who was injured

was playing in some weeds which the machine was cutting.

Attorney J. H. Eymann represented the plaintiff in the action while the defense counsel was Attorney W. P. Moloney.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, March 3

A DAY of conflict and opposition must be preaged from the adverse lunar transits. There is likelihood of an abrupt and disruptive change, far-reaching in its issues, and attended by little of promise as to bettering either the position or financial affairs. It is a time for acting with much conservatism, precaution and sagacity in order to meet frustrating and difficult situations.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a year of sudden and disruptive visitations, depending on their own personal sagacity, acumen and general good management as to the favorable outcome of affairs. There may be many difficult or baffling situations or tenacious obstacles to be overcome by calm and well-directed effort. Making charges after mature deliberation or postponing them may prove good astrological advice. A child born on this day may have original talents and skill but may require a very sound and practical education to enable it to meet obstruction and opposition. In native genius should be developed and well directed.

HONOR WOMAN, 80,

Friends, Relatives Gather at Home of Mrs. Frances Seckel.

CALEDONIA, March 5.—A basket dinner at the home of Mrs. Frances Ann Seckel Monday honored her eightieth birthday anniversary. A center piece of cut flowers and a birthday cake centered the table at which covers were laid for Mrs. Leo Ault, Miss Rosemary Ault of Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. Ralph Jennings, Miss Frances Jennings, Mrs. Herman Blank, James and Richard Blank, of Marion; Robert Seckel, of Bucyrus; Mrs. Eliza Sharruck and two children, of near Martel; Mrs. E. J. Winters, Miss Gertrude Seckel and the honoree. Among the many gifts received by the celebrant was a potted plant from a friend at Mt. Pleasant. One of the big surprises of the day for Mrs. Seckel was an instrumental selection "Over the Waves" dedicated to her in the broadcast program from WCAI, Columbus at 9:30 p. m. Robert Seckel, a son, who was present, celebrated his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary.

A number of bills were paid at the monthly meeting of the village council last night. The bid from the Prospect Fire Engine Co. of $3,850 for fire equipment was accepted and a contract was signed by the company. The company allowed $300 for the old fire pump and the balance of $3,550. The council also accepted the annual appropriation ordinance.

Calantha lodge Knights of Pythias were winners last night when Esther Temple Pythian Sisters challenged them at a euchre party in castle hall, 334 points were made by the K. of P.'s and 291 by the sisters. Honors for high scores were won by Mrs. Wes Sichel, Mrs. Roy Garver, Joe Leich and Clarence Gifford. Following the game the group enjoyed refreshments at the Corner Inn.

TREATMENT FOR DEAFNESS, HEAD NOISES AND CATARRH SENT FREE!

Ear Tubal Deafness Successfully Treated by Simple Home Method

Originated by a Doctor for Office Practice, but Later Perfected for the Home

The Results of Over 40 Yrs. Experience of a Specialist

Phenomenal success has attended this home treatment. More than 585,740 cases of deafness, head noises due to ear tubal catarrh and ordinary nasal catarrh have used this method in all sections of the country and out of this number a huge number have reported complete satisfaction.

Most of these sufferers have been people whose hearing was bad in one ear and was rapidly getting bad in the other. With every cold the hearing grew worse. This condition was relieved for many, but their catarrhal condition was bettered and in many cases all traces of the disease disappeared.

Tells of Development

Years ago the late Dr. Coffee himself began to suffer with head noises, dullness of hearing and with catarrh. He was rapidly losing his hearing. It was bad in one ear and with every cold it would get bad in the other. He slowly but surely his hearing appeared to be leaving him. He naturally tried every treatment that he knew of, as deafness in his profession would have been fatal to his success. After a great deal of time when he was apparently destined to go through life with the handicap of impaired hearing he was made normal once more.

Wonderfully Improved
"I received your treatment for catarrhal deafness and in just three days after I had used it, my hearing began to improve. And now I am wonderfully improved."
D. H. C., Alabama.

Treatment Sent to Thousands

Acquaintances and friends of the doctor's inquired as to the treatment and soon he was overwhelmed with requests for the method. To treat this number of people in time allotted to office hours would have been impossible; and so he started to develop a home treatment. After careful study he effected a course which he believed to be effective. He allowed a number to try it at home, without the assistance of a physician, and found that they could do the work with almost the efficiency and the good results that a doctor could.

To prove that this statement is effective—that deafness, dullness of hearing and head noises from ear tubal catarrh and nasal catarrh can be treated and relieved at home, free trial home treatments will be sent to sufferers on request.

Thousands Recommend Dr. Coffee's Treatment

Don't miss this chance to make the acquaintance of this logical and purely medical treatment. A treatment of worth of which is attested by so many who have written of their relief.

Slowly and carefully it was developed—until at last, after many hours of painstaking tests, Dr. Coffee was convinced that he had the best treatment, the most effective course he had ever found. Its success in the past proves that it accomplishes its purpose.

Accept This Free Offer

Those who are suffering with deafness, dullness of hearing and head noises from ear tubal catarrh, may try free, at no cost to them whatever, this original treatment. Remarkable Recoveries Reported

Now Hears Clearly
"I have used your medicines and have found them of great benefit. I can hear very clearly and the head noises have gone. I will do all I can to recommend your medicines to anyone whom I know is suffering from deafness. If you wish you can use my name for testimonial purposes."
A. B. S. of M. S., Canada.

Believed in Six Weeks
"I was suffering from head noises, my ears rang like a bell. I nearly lost my mind and was really so bad that after taking your wonderful treatment one and one-half months I was thoroughly relieved. That was over a year ago and I am still hearing as good as ever and the head noises have not returned."
F. L. of Calif.

Mrs. A. A. R. of Middlemarch, Ohio: Just a few lines to let you know that your free trial medicine has done for me. I was suffering from head noises and deafness and after using your medicine I am now hearing as good as ever and the head noises have not returned.

THIS PHOTOGRAPH ILLUSTRATES HOW YOU WILL FEEL WHEN RELIEVED OF DEAFNESS AND CATARRH

Saved From Deafness and Catarrh by Home Treatment!

Literally thousands of people from different sections of the United States have used this special, original home treatment. Not only have many found relief from distressing head noises but restoration of good or normal hearing as well.

Head Noises Gone
"I was remarkably benefited by your treatment. I have been troubled for years with violent head noises and finally a friend advised me to try your method; he sent for the treatment himself. I noticed improvement at once, and now I am well."
Mr. C. McG., Pennsylvania.

"I am writing this letter in reply to the one that I received from you. Your treatment has certainly done wonders for me. I can't find words to express my thanks. I will recommend your treatment wherever I go. If you wish to publish this letter you have my permission to do so."
M. A. C.

"I had been suffering with catarrh for seven years and tried a great many remedies, but did not find anything that helped me until I got hold of Dr. Coffee's. Can say after taking the treatment I noticed a change for the better inside of a week. I will recommend your treatment to anyone who has catarrh."
P. A. P., Monte Vista, Colo.

Deafness Due to Catarrh Of The Air Passages

Authorities Blame Ear Tubal Catarrh for a Large Per Cent of Deafness Throughout the World.

According to authorities who have their assertions on years of research and actual medical observation and practice a very large percentage of the deafness in the world today is due to catarrh of the ear tubal catarrh.

Not only is ear tubal catarrh, which is really a development of nasal catarrh blamed for deafness, but at its door are laid many other diseases, such as stomach catarrh, poisoned condition of the body, and a generally diseased condition.

This May Be Relieved

This condition may be relieved. Dr. W. O. Coffee, a specialist in the Middle West for many years, developed a home treatment for deafness, head noises from ear tubal catarrh, and catarrh itself. Through this method, it is possible to remedy the catarrhal condition in many cases and make hearing practically normal once more. It has been proved that in many cases this is true.

Improvement General

Physicians state, authoritatively, too, that in these cases doubtless other diseased conditions were contacted and relieved by the defeat of catarrh; for it no longer poured its daily portion of poison into the human system and the body was no longer required to use a great portion of its strength in throwing off this poison. As a result it was better able to combat new diseases and the general physical condition was bettered in addition to the relief given for deafness.

Offensive Catarrhal Conditions Relieved By Home Remedy!

Young and Old Have Received Some Remarkable Benefits from This Treatment

An Effective Means of Combating a Loathsome Condition.

Without doubt nasal catarrh is the most offensive of all diseases; it disgusts and causes all who may be within hearing. The constant hacking, sniffing and stifled mouth breathing—the mucous discharge, which can only be eliminated by blowing the nose or by continual sniffing, is sickening to all who are near.

Surely anyone can recognize catarrh by the constant discharge of that filthy, disease-laden mucus. And realizing what frightful impurities are carried by this germiniferous catarrhal fluid, no one should permit such a condition to continue—especially when so simple and so effective a means of combating it may be tried without cost or obligation.

Over 585,740 Cases Treated

This remedy has been tried by sufferers from catarrh, deafness and head noises in practically all of the English-speaking countries of the world. In fact, the demand has been so great that it has been necessary for the Dr. W. O. Coffee Co. to open a branch office in Canada in order to take care of deaf and catarrh sufferers in the Canadian Provinces. If this treatment can produce splendid results for these people, why don't you try it? Just send coupon which appears on this page.

Now, don't lay this aside with the intentions of sending the coupon tomorrow. It may slip your mind and with it will go an opportunity to test absolutely free of cost a catarrh treatment declared by many to be the most effective and gratifying they have ever used.

No matter how long you have suffered or how many so-called "remedies" you have tried in desperation, you are urged to try this treatment originated by a physician of more than 45 years' experience. You will be glad you did so.

Treated Successfully at 80 Years

"I used the medicine you sent me and have been completely relieved. I am 80 years of age and you can use my name and this letter as you see fit, but in your own home and your medicine as it has helped me and I think Dr. Coffee's treatment is great."
C. G. Okla.

If you will send the coupon for the Free Treatment you can try it, free, in your own home and thus have the opportunity to note the benefits of the daily applications of medicines to the parts affected.

Remember, the Dr. Coffee Treatment does not involve the use of any device or instrument for the treatment of the ear. It is a sound remedy. It goes right to the seat of the trouble, and thus it brings about results in a normal, natural manner so much desired.

Don't you think such a treatment will help you? You can try it free. So don't hesitate to learn if your hearing can be benefited, or your catarrh entirely relieved. You owe it to yourself to do so.

FREE TO ALL WHO SUFFER FROM DEAFNESS AND CATARRH

Write today. With this free test treatment you will also receive a copy of the Dr. W. O. Coffee Co.'s latest book on "Deafness, Head Noises, Catarrh." Please state whether you desire treatment for Deafness and Head Noises or for Catarrh only. Both can be treated at free—and cost all postage prepaid. Don't fail to get this free test treatment. It will be the means of restoring your hearing, relieving you of catarrh, and bring you much happiness.

Marion Man Develops New Delphinium Strain

A NEW strain of delphinium, a favorite with flower lovers, has been developed and perfected by Roy Gottschall of 219 Summit street, with whom flowers have been a hobby for 12 years.

The delphinium has long been a greatly admired flower, but the fragile stem supporting its spike of beautiful flowers in most strains has never been hardy enough to withstand the rains and wind common to this part of the country.

Crosses Strains

By tedious experimenting and cross breeding Gottschall has produced a strain which not only embodies a strong stem and a beautiful flower, but also a variety of colors in the spike of flowers, which normally grows in a solid blue shade.

Blue is rather a rare color in the garden and especially so if it is a flower on a plant which is hardy and lives from year to year regardless of weather conditions.

About 12 years ago Gottschall became interested in the delphinium, which produces a spike of blue flowers after June 1. Not content with the flowers as he found them, Gottschall set out to collect species of the flower from all over the world. Packets of seed from their native haunts of England, Germany, France and other places arrived.

Gets Variety

Some of the least known seeds produced beautiful, large flowers while others had a bit of pink or lavender, Gottschall found. Some were iridescent.

By selection and hybridization, Gottschall brought desirable qualities of each strain into his new strain, producing a variety of colors.

Seed from the new strain, which Gottschall has named the "Elite," are being tested by the W. Atlee Burpee Co. of Philadelphia, which may add it to the annual garden book.

Stomach Trouble Due to Acidity

Home Treatment Brings Swift Relief

Stomach troubles—indigestion, gas, sourness, etc., are, in most cases, caused by "too much acid in the stomach."

Get rid of the excess acid, and you get rid of Gas, Sourness, Heartburn, Bloating and all the distress of indigestion.

The best way to do this is to take a teaspoonful or three tablets of pure "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water right after eating or whenever pain is felt. "Bisurated" Magnesia works quickly. It brings relief from every distressing symptom in just a few minutes.

"Bisurated" Magnesia is the ideal safe, convenient, and inexpensive magnesia treatment for stomach use. Henney & Cooper and druggists everywhere sell and recommend it, and its daily or as needed use keeps the stomach in fine condition, enabling it to do its work without the aid of soda or artificial digestants.—Adv.

To win membership in the club, Kimble sold 26 new automobiles and 141 used automobiles in 1929, making him a total of 213 points. Each new car sale scores two points and each used car sale scores one point. To be eligible to membership in the club, a salesman must have scored 200 or more points during the calendar year.

Kimble has been a salesman with the company two years, having been engaged with the Prendergast Co. for 18 years previously.

More than 800 persons are expected to attend the meeting in Cleveland which opens with a luncheon in the banquet hall of the public auditorium. A feature of the luncheon will be installation of officers of the "100 car club."

February Dished Out Lot Of Lovely Weather Here

FEBRUARY had only 28 days, but a great deal can be accomplished in the way of weather in 672 hours.

For instance, on the last day of the month it was 61, within six degrees of equating the maximum record for the month, set in 1906. The average temperature for the month over a number of years, according to official records, is 27.2.

The warm weather of the last month raised the average for the month to approximately 38. The last week of the month was notable for its clear, sunny days and the mild temperatures in the 50's. St. Valentine's day reckoned one of the sweetest of the year, marked the fall of the mercury to 13 above zero.

Records for the month show that in 1909 the low was six below zero and in 1899 the older residents will recall that it was 22 below zero—and "shiver me timbers" was an appropriate phrase.

Rainfall for the month measured only 1.78 inches, almost an inch below the average of 2.38 for the month. In 1909 6.35 inches fell.

In 1910 in Marion there was 37 inches of snow, one of the heaviest in the history of the county, but last month only five inches covered the ground at spasmodic periods. The lowest snowfall for the month, one inch, was registered in 1918.

A resume of the month shows six clear days, 12 partly cloudy and 10 cloudy.

Well, well! Congress adjourned. Isn't this feeling of relief heartening?

Characteristically, Senator Borah could not resist the temptation to make one more plea
 for those dear friends of his, the Russians.

 that count two ways.

The 200 communists who drove all the way
 from New York to Albany to get thrown out of the state capitol by state troopers, got just what they went after, even though not all that they deserved.

It is recorded that a big loan, to be made
 by banking interests in this country and France, was Italy's price for the naval pact,
 which once more shows the close connection
 at times between finance and diplomacy.

Before adjourning, both houses of congress passed the bill permitting the issuing of $8,000,000,000 refunding bonds without surtax
 exemption. Now it will be interesting to note
 how many of us patriots will voluntarily exchange our bonds for the new issue drawing a lesser rate of interest to save money to the government.

British unemployment fell off 13,534 during the week ended February 22, the second week
 in succession to show a decrease. Another hopeful sign, even though we have to chase
 away across the Atlantic to find it.

To place all civil service employees on the same footing, a bill has been passed to give approximately 400,000, in addition to the 300-000 postoffice employees for whom similar provision was made in the postoffice bill, Saturday half-holidays, which is as it should be. No employer can afford to make fish of one set of employees and fowl of another.

Mayor Walker, of New York City, has in-

 for some time if it were not about time for the

Our Shipyards Show Activity.

No matter what the effect of the depression
 of 1930 may have had on other lines of industry, the ship construction industry is showing more activity than it has at any time within the last five years. The bi-monthly report of the American bureau of shipping, just given out for publication, shows that 428,746 tons of shipping are under construction in the shipyards of the United States.

While this tonnage includes yachts, barges,
 lighters, trawls, and other smaller craft, the great volume of it comprises passenger ships
 and tankers, the total of these two classes being 325,400 tons. The largest vessels of the former class are the two liners being built for the United States Lines, Inc., and next to these are the two Dollar liners, President Hoover
 and President Coolidge, of 21,000 tons each,
 which were but recently launched. Three ships of 18,500 tons each are being constructed for the Matson Navigation company and two ships of 10,500 tons each for the Panama Mail line and the Grace Steamship company. The remainder of the twenty passenger ships under construction are under 10,000 tons. They include two of 9,400 tons each for the Export Steamship company, six of 7,000 tons each for the United Mail company and the 5,000-ton
 vessel, Florida, for the Peninsular and Occidental Steamship company.

American shipyards felt the depression following the fall of 1929, but not to the extent of most industries. However, it staged a quick recovery and showed an increased business for the year. True, this increase was in part due to the generous loans made by the government to shipping lines for the construction of new vessels, but this encouragement did not even approach the financial assistance given some other lines of industry, which not only failed to show improvement, but also continued in a course of retrogression.

In any event, no matter what the cause of the showing, it is evident that passenger steamship lines look optimistically to the future. They make manifest their belief that recovery from business depression is certain and near at hand. A total of 325,400 tons of passenger vessels in construction can not be taken as other than an earnest of their belief that conditions will soon be such that the ocean passenger carrying business will experience a boom.

Victories by Compromise.

Twenty-two years ago a young lawyer journeyed from heat-gripped India to London to plead for independence of the vast British possession before the Liberal government which ruled Britain at the time. His pluriname was much like that of Benjamin Franklin's from the new western continent a century and a half before.

Today, now gray-haired, emaciated, the lawyer—Mahatma M. K. Gandhi—has won concessions for his people in the truce signed Wednesday with Lord Irwin, ending the Indian uprising against British rule.

For almost a year, Gandhi had led the active campaign of the Nationalists in protest against the English government. His chief followers were jailed, and later he himself was imprisoned. But still the campaign went on. Turmoil and conflict were frequent. Lives were sacrificed. Heads were bashed by police, who sought to quell the insistent disturbance of the Nationalists intent on recognition of their pleas for freedom from British rule.

Finally, Wednesday, the British government gave in. Permission was granted for natives living along the seacoast to gather, manufacture and sell salt, which previously had been the sole right of the British monopoly. This was one of the minor "injustices" the Indians
 had emphasized in their campaign for independence. Approval was listed of the right of natives to "peaceful picketing." Confiscated
 property of Indian volunteers in the independence movement will be returned and those dismissed from government office will be reinstated. The victory will restore "normal conditions" and remove bans and restrictions
 placed on Nationalist organizations.

In return for these concessions of the British government Gandhi and his followers have agreed to abandon the civil disobedience movement and desist in their demand for an investigation of alleged "police excesses" in suppressing independence demonstrations, because
 the victory "regrets" any "excesses."

Thus in the truce are victories for both sides. The Nationalists have been granted additional "rights," but in winning these they have been forced to sacrifice their chief aim—independence.

Gandhi, "the great soul," will be remembered
 in history as the man who fought valiantly for Indian independence. But his dream of self-government probably will not come within his lifetime. Independence for 320,000,000 people, among whom so few have had the advantages of education and progress, who would not know what to do with their independence
 if they had it, would be disastrous to the vast country.

Congress has legislated to make "The Star-Spangled Banner" the national anthem. Assuming the affixing of the signature of President Hoover, it is now up to about 900 out of every thousand of us to learn the words and to about 900,000 out of every million to learn how to sing it without that awful vocal collapse on the high notes.

Auf Wiedersehen.

Professor and Mrs. Albert Einstein have sailed for home after several weeks in this country during which time the famous German scientist devoted himself to technical discussions on scientific subjects with American savants on the Pacific coast.

Replying to the last farewells of admirers
 in New York City, Dr. Einstein told a reporter that possibly the most impressionistic thing
 he encountered in America was the Grand canyon and its surrounding scene beauties.
 He frankly admitted that the thrill of scientific accomplishments ranked second to the emotions he felt when he peered into the awesome depths of an accomplishment of nature,
 entirely free from the touch of human hand.

America will like this parting message of Dr. Einstein's. The technical scope of his scientific work can interest but a few highly-trained physicists though Americans freely
 and easily refer to the relativity theory when
 Dr. Einstein's name is mentioned.

But the Grand canyon is part and parcel of all Americans' impressions, regardless of whether they have actually visited it. The Grand canyon represents a gigantic caprice of nature's force that can easily be visualized.
 America speaks of the Grand canyon as a proud possession, a scenic wonder that can not be duplicated in the world.

Thus Dr. Einstein endears himself more firmly in the hearts of Americans by his parting compliment to the Grand canyon. From the time of his arrival, Dr. Einstein has been regarded as "good copy" by the gentlemen of the press. His departure does not alter the classification.

After living with his wife for sixty-four years, a citizen of Carbondale, Illinois, is seeking a divorce charging cruelty. It can hardly be held that that patriarch is hasty in reaching conclusions.

The assistant health commissioner of Chicago asserts that the bootleg liquor of 1930
 was less drinkable than that of the year before. From what we have been told by some of our acquaintances who "can drink it or let it alone," the contention of the Chicagoan
 doesn't seem possible.

Senator J. Thomas Heflin ran true to form
 in ending his career in the senate, and thereby he overlooked a bet. What a sensation he could have created had he made his swan song
 felicitous in conformity to the general feeling
 over his retirement.

Senator Nye begrudgingly admits that nothing
 was developed in his campaign inquiry to reflect on Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, but he could not quit the subject without a nasty fling. Well, it hardly could have been expected that Gerald would graciously
 clear anybody of the surmises and insinuations
 he gave out as chairman of the committee. To expect that, would have been beyond reason.

The British medical research council challenges the assumption that recent experiments
 on guinea pigs over here made evident that alcohol disastrously affects the human race,
 claiming that similar experiments conducted
 if it showed in nine cases out of ten that alcohol not used to excess is beneficial. We very gravely fear that our British cousins are wedded to their wetness.

ONE OF THOSE JOLLY FAMILY CONFERENCES.

Editorial Opinion.

TAMMANY BOMB FOR MR. RASKOB.

The Democratic state committee dropped a depth bomb of high potency when it "re-
 requested" the New York members of the national committee to oppose at the Washington meeting the reported plan of Chairman Raskob to put it on record in opposition to prohibition.

The political significance of this extraordinary move would seem to indicate a sharp
 parting of the ways between the organization
 here and former Governor Smith and his friend, Chairman Raskob. For it has gone out of its way to show its lack of sympathy with them and their hope of control in 1932. Dominated by Tammany, it is definitely and completely
 back of Governor Roosevelt and his campaign for the presidential nomination. The incident gives color to the report that the former governor has not been entirely pleased with the record made by his successor and has been unwilling to join in promoting his political future.

The strong declaration of the state committee against the adoption of any "definite expression of opinion or recommendations on any
 and all national questions" by the national committee was not done without Governor Roosevelt's approval. It is safe to assume. Indeed,
 he probably wishes to be protected from pressure to take a stand on the prohibition platform prior to the convening of the national convention. Such an attitude would be in line with his maneuvers leading up to the state convention last fall. His strategy is to wait and see what the "other fellow" is going to do.

The full effect of the New York bomb can not be told until Thursday. It is sure, however,
 to result in the detonation of other high explosives. The result may be highly devastating to party harmony and prospects. In the end
 the prohibition issue may even do as much damage to the optimistic Democratic party as has already done to the pessimistic Republicans.—New York Herald Tribune, March 3.

GENERAL EDGAR JADWIN.

The former chief of army engineers, who died in Panama City Monday, needs no column of stone to perpetuate his memory, for the tangible results of his work exist throughout the United States and its outlying possessions. General Jadwin was not a warrior, as that term is usually conceived. He did not command combat troops, laid no plans for military strategy. But in time of peace and in time of war he gave his skill and enterprise
 without stint to his country.

In the building of the Panama canal, Jadwin
 was one of the principal figures aiding General Gorgas. After the Spanish-American war, in which he served, Jadwin had a leading part in the vast work of sanitation which laid the foundations for Cuba's national development. During the World War he guided the efforts of 150,000 men in building railways, barracks, fortifications.

Had his service been confined to war time,
 General Jadwin would have been a distinguished figure in American military life.
 But his peace time labors stand out, in even larger outline now. The flood prevention work along the lower Mississippi, the canaliza-
 tion of the Ohio and the construction of the sea
 wall at Galveston are lasting proof of the competence and devotion of this unique public servant.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CALLS THEM MONEY GRABBERS.

Editor Star—It has come to my attention
 that regular money grabbers are at work
 within our city, namely, those workers who are working every day and have fair positions
 and are contracting outside jobs, house painting and paper hanging, etc.

No one would object to this in times of regular employment for every man, but with so many of our brothers out of work I can not see where any one has the heart to take bread
 out of the mouths of the painters and paper-
 hangers' children and others.

The time is at hand when householders
 should be willing to hire the home repaired and cleaned and give some one work and not have to make so many charity donations. Most citizens want work and not charity. Let us all get behind a plan to sponsor an early spring
 clean-up of real merit.

This is not a suggestion that you take advantage of these unemployed workers, but you can pay fair wages and get that house painted
 at less cost this spring than ever before, therefore hire a real painter and not a makeshift
 and have a clear conscience, thereby aiding
 some worthy Marion worker.

How To Treat Lead Poisoning.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Men constantly exposed to lead are likely to suffer from lead poisoning. It is common in lead-workers, house painters, gliders, artists
 and others who are brought in constant contact with the metal in one form or another.

You will be surprised to learn that, in very small quantities, this metal is found in flour,
 beer, cider, wines, teas, vinegar, sugar and candies. It is found in numerous drugs, especially those manufactured by the aid of sulphuric acid.

In view of the rigid food regulations maintained by each state, we rarely find cases of such poisoning due to eating food. These precautions are applied, too, in the manufacture and sale of drugs.

Acute lead poisoning is not common. When it occurs it is seldom fatal. The symptoms
 come on suddenly. There is a metallic taste in the mouth with a burning sensation. There is a feeling of great dryness in the mouth and throat. Vomiting, followed by marked retch-ing and pain in the abdomen, is another symptom. The pain and discomfort are stubborn and, though recovery occurs, it may be delayed
 for some time.

The chief sign of chronic lead poisoning is
 the general ill health that always accompanies
 it. The digestion is poor, the appetite lessens and the bowels are upset. The skin assumes a peculiar color, often appearing almost yellow.
 The gums frequently show a black streak,
 which is recognized as a sign of metal poisoning. Occasionally the teeth turn black. They become loose and are extremely sensitive to heat and cold.

A pregnant woman exposed to lead and showing signs of lead poisoning is in danger of losing the baby. Under such circumstances it is rare to carry the child to full term.

A very common effect of lead poisoning is
 the weakening and paralysis of the muscles.
 The muscles of the arm and forearm are usually involved. Paralysis of the hand and fingers is most characteristic. The wrists droop down, producing a condition spoken of as "wrist drop." This is one of the most constant of the symptoms.

Advanced chronic lead poisoning may involve
 the eye, producing partial or total blindness.
 The kidneys may become affected. In treating chronic lead poisoning, it is essential that the affected person be removed from all contact with lead. Rest, plenty of fresh air and sunshine, and nourishing food, are advised. Careful nursing and hygienic living usually restore the individual.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper

The Thirty-Second O. V. I.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Probably no other Ohio regiment in the Civil War vacillated between heroic fighting, inefficiency, intolerance of discipline and determined resistance than did the Thirty-Second and Infantry, projected at Camp Bartley near Mansfield, and completed at Camp Dennison
 in July, 1861. Like most of the early Ohio organizations, it was rushed south without complete equipment and arms, and poorly trained. In the rough mountains of Virginia
 the regiment got its first lessons in warfare
 before the troops of Lee, himself. Its losses in battle at first were not heavy, but there was a fearful loss among its minor officers as it developed that they had not the making of good soldiers, four captains, four first lieutenants
 and eight second lieutenants being discharged at once with the regimental surgeon.

The colonel, Thomas H. Ford, showed a weakness in the defense of Maryland Heights
 and was tried by a military court and dismissed from the service. He had served as lieutenant governor of Ohio under Chase's administration, first term. At Harper's Ferry,
 after losing 150 of its men in a stout defense,
 the command was surrendered. Paroled, it was sent to Chicago, where it remained for eight months, and so many of its members took French leave and went home that it was reduced finally to but thirty-five men—all greatly discouraged.

Captain B. F. Potts, sent by the men to protest against this treatment to the Ohio governor, so impressed that official that he was placed in command and soon had so many of the men back that the strength of the regiment rose to 800. The regiment went to the Southwest, where it gave a fine account of itself. After Vicksburg, it joined Sherman in the Atlanta campaign, led in the march to the sea, went up through the Carolinas and was mustered out at Columbus, July 26, 1865.

It entered the field with 850 men. During its service more than 1,600 men were recruited
 into it, but at the muster out it counted
 but 858.

Hypatia, Tragic Heroine of Science.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

With the opening of all opportunities for women to carve out careers and names for themselves, the question naturally presents itself: Are women capable of achieving great things in science? Nothing could be more unfair than to resort to a past history. For only in very recent times have careers in science, properly speaking, been open to women, and even inviting by reason of the possibilities for advancement to high position and fame. Only the future will be able to answer this momentous question. It is probably true that women, if they dedicate themselves undividedly to science, will achieve
 eminence therein, as well as in other branches
 of knowledge and fields of human endeavor.

In a recent study of women mathematicians,
 down to the beginning of the present century,
 Gino Loria, the Italian mathematician, says:
 "Although in a general way, I am disposed to incline to the conviction of the open doors
 of the sanctuary of the exact sciences to whoever wishes to leap upon the threshhold, I find myself with regret obliged to make reservations in regard to those whose nature seems to have called to other destinies. Perchance some archaeologists of the future, comparing my reservations with progress in mathematics by women of the coming centuries, will find good arguments for accusing me of having been a man of little faith and a false prophet. My bones, bleaching in the sepulcher, will quiver with joy at this new triumph of the 'eternal woman!'"

So far as history gives indisputable evidence,
 Hypatia was the first woman of real eminence
 in mathematics. Born about the year 370 A. D., she was the daughter of Theon of Alexandria.
 He flourished under Theodosius the Great, and was a noted philosopher. He was a teacher at the Museum of Alexandria, and edited Euclid. Sartorius in his "History of Science" says that, for a long time during the Middle ages, it was thought that Euclid had simply enunciated the geometrical propositions, but that Theon had proved them! He made important commentaries on the works of Ptolemy,
 was engaged in making astronomical observations in A. D. 365 and 372, and mentions the precession of the equinoxes.

It has been said that Hypatia was given
 the best training the philosophy of the time could furnish. Some writers have said that she seemed to be a better mathematician than her father. She taught in the academy, giving instruction in mathematics and philosophy,
 and succeeded her father upon his retirement.
 Her fame spread far and wide, perhaps as beauty no less than as a gifted teacher, and many pupils were attracted to the school at Alexandria, notable among them being Synesius, afterwards Bishop of Ptolemais. She is credited with having written commentaries
 on Apollonius, Diaphantus and Ptolemy. Hypatia was revered for her wisdom, and was often consulted by the magistrates of Alexandria.

It was during this era that Christian thought became antagonistic to secular learning, which was falsely identified as associated with heathenism. In 415, Hypatia was murdered with revolting cruelty by a mob. It has been well said that Hypatia was famed alike for her beauty, her purity, and her tragic fate.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

POISON LIQUOR FATAL TO FOUR

Bridgeport, O., Drinking Party Causes Death of 3 Men, 1 Woman.

INVESTIGATION LAUNCHED

County Authorities Open Search for Seller of Death-Dealing Rum.

By United Press. BRIDGEPORT, O., March 5.—Four persons died today from the effects of a poison liquor consumed at a drinking party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose.

The death toll of the drinking party caused Belmont county authorities to launch an investigation to learn the identity of the death-dealing rum.

Death from poison liquor also is listed in the county.

Samuel Berghoff, 37, and his wife, hosts of the party, are among the victims.

Her death Tuesday followed the death of Harry ("Kitty") who was 45.

It is learned that the four persons who died today from the effects of a poison liquor consumed at a drinking party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose.

WILL REQUEST NEW DAUGHERTY TRIAL

Washington C. H. Banker Found Guilty on All Counts of Indictment.

bearing Perrell's name, but the banker denied signing it.

Prosecutor Norman McLean also contended that during 1929 Daugherty added approximately $12,000 to his accounts on loans credited to others, that the defendant approved loans when the bank's reserves were low and that his wife owed $42,000 which had not been repaid.

The five counts in the indictment charge abstraction of funds, misapplication of the bank's credit, falsification of entries, an attempt to deceive a state bank examiner, and the making of an invalid loan.

Technicalities Cause Delay. The case went to the jury at noon yesterday when the defense surprisingly waived its right to a final argument. The jury was ready to report four hours later, but twice was sent back to the courtroom by Judge Charles Bell of Cincinnati to correct a technical error.

The judge was unable to explain the error since he had given his charge in writing and could not orally elaborate upon it. It was learned the jurors had neglected to pluralize "offenses" in describing the five counts.

The courtroom was packed when the decision was read, but Judge Bell had warned against any demonstration. None of Daugherty's counsel had any statement. Special Prosecutor Louis J. Schneider of Cincinnati, however, said the verdict was just and proper.

Praised Prosecutor McLean, Cecil Hall, Cincinnati accountant and the state's star witness, former Prosecutor W. Stanley Paxson and his assistant, Newton Brown.

Daugherty came into national attention a few years ago when he was president of the Midland National bank refused a senate commission permission to inspect the books in a hunt for alleged bribe money in government oil deals.

He was cited for contempt of the senate, but was never prosecuted. The Midland and two other banks were later merged to form the Ohio State bank.

Disclaiming prior to the meeting any knowledge of proposals that might be submitted at the session, but maintaining stoutly that in 1932 prohibition would be an unavoidable issue, Alfred E. Smith, Democratic standard bearer in 1928, sent word he would attend the afternoon session. He was absent from the morning session.

Smith and James M. Cox, presidential nominee in 1920, walked to the platform together for the afternoon session to the accompaniment of cheers.

With Shouse, executive director, by his side, Chairman Raskob gave the opening minutes over to photographers.

Raskob said in his opening statement that before the next meeting of the committee, either later this year or early next year, sufficient time will have elapsed to permit of mature consideration of policies. Then, he added, it will be possible to measure public opinion and resolutions could be adopted looking forward to the next convention.

Recalls 1928 Vote. J. H. Shouse then took the platform. He recalled that in 1928, "the largest popular vote ever given a minority party" was registered.

Shouse looked back to "the dark hour" following the presidential election of 1928, and pointed to the program then mapped out by Mr. Raskob for bolstering the Democratic organization.

The first problem, he said, was the building up of the precinct and state organizations. The committee was "to keep the country informed." He added, "I think you will agree our publicity bureau has functioned."

Shouse declared the Republican administration "swept into power in 1928, is now facing, in the middle of its term, the patent fact that it has lost control of the legislative arm of the government."

He referred to the 1930 congressional election as "sweeping" and said it was a greater victory than it appeared on the surface.

A telegram from John W. Davis, Presidential nominee of 1924, was read. It said:

"I much regret I cannot attend the meeting tomorrow, but I beg to send to the committee my cordial good wishes for the success and harmony of its deliberations."

WILL REQUEST NEW DAUGHERTY TRIAL

Washington C. H. Banker Found Guilty on All Counts of Indictment.

bearing Perrell's name, but the banker denied signing it.

Prosecutor Norman McLean also contended that during 1929 Daugherty added approximately $12,000 to his accounts on loans credited to others, that the defendant approved loans when the bank's reserves were low and that his wife owed $42,000 which had not been repaid.

The five counts in the indictment charge abstraction of funds, misapplication of the bank's credit, falsification of entries, an attempt to deceive a state bank examiner, and the making of an invalid loan.

Technicalities Cause Delay. The case went to the jury at noon yesterday when the defense surprisingly waived its right to a final argument. The jury was ready to report four hours later, but twice was sent back to the courtroom by Judge Charles Bell of Cincinnati to correct a technical error.

The judge was unable to explain the error since he had given his charge in writing and could not orally elaborate upon it. It was learned the jurors had neglected to pluralize "offenses" in describing the five counts.

The courtroom was packed when the decision was read, but Judge Bell had warned against any demonstration. None of Daugherty's counsel had any statement. Special Prosecutor Louis J. Schneider of Cincinnati, however, said the verdict was just and proper.

Praised Prosecutor McLean, Cecil Hall, Cincinnati accountant and the state's star witness, former Prosecutor W. Stanley Paxson and his assistant, Newton Brown.

Daugherty came into national attention a few years ago when he was president of the Midland National bank refused a senate commission permission to inspect the books in a hunt for alleged bribe money in government oil deals.

He was cited for contempt of the senate, but was never prosecuted. The Midland and two other banks were later merged to form the Ohio State bank.

Disclaiming prior to the meeting any knowledge of proposals that might be submitted at the session, but maintaining stoutly that in 1932 prohibition would be an unavoidable issue, Alfred E. Smith, Democratic standard bearer in 1928, sent word he would attend the afternoon session. He was absent from the morning session.

Smith and James M. Cox, presidential nominee in 1920, walked to the platform together for the afternoon session to the accompaniment of cheers.

With Shouse, executive director, by his side, Chairman Raskob gave the opening minutes over to photographers.

Raskob said in his opening statement that before the next meeting of the committee, either later this year or early next year, sufficient time will have elapsed to permit of mature consideration of policies. Then, he added, it will be possible to measure public opinion and resolutions could be adopted looking forward to the next convention.

Arthur Brisbane's Today

is his work. It is, at the same time, his mental grandchild.

When the world is fully populated, each woman limited strictly to two children, science, as predicted by Haldane, will furnish a simpler and easier, and the gestation term two-thirds shorter. Then women may become, even in practical external things, equal or superior to men. Women have greater power than men, which enables them to produce several men. Caruso was a nineteenth child.

NEW YORK newspapers continue to advertise Chicago as the city of crime, although Chicago, as proved by statistics, stands far from the top as a crime center. New York's newspapers also relate the interesting story of a New York woman strangled to death after she threatened to tell about police corruption. One policeman, one lawyer are suspected. That has not yet happened in Chicago, where killings are confined to men, and usually to thugs. To make the death of the miserable New York woman more tragic, there comes news of her daughter's suicide. The unfortunate girl, 16 years old, could not stand the mockery of her high school companions, and killed herself.

OTHER NATIONS lack the "difficulty" that so impressed the late Lord Northcliffe when he came here. "The American people," said he, "are very foolish." He was impressed by our obedience when ordered to stop eating sugar because Europe wanted it. What Northcliffe said of our people is also true of our government, which takes orders about its navy, war, gas, etc. very humbly.

Not so with Japan. The London naval treaty "allotted" to Japan 32,000 tons of submarines. Now it develops that France is to have 80,000 tons of submarines, and Japan says: "Wait a minute, not so fast; we need time to think that over." Uncle Sam, like a good tar baby, says nothing. Whatever they allot is good enough for him. He was not like that before international finance, eager to curry favor abroad, did his thinking for him.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE Campaign at Least Temporarily Halted by Agreement.

NEW DELHI, Ind., March 5.—Mahatma Gandhi and the all-India congress party today terminated the civil disobedience campaign, bringing a temporary halt, at least, to India's political turmoil.

The action was in accordance with the terms of an agreement reached yesterday by Gandhi and Lord Irwin, the viceroy.

Terms of the truce, as published are: (1) abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign; (2) abandonment of the boycott as a political weapon; (3) release of prisoners held for non-violent offenses; (4) recognition of right of all area residents to make their own salt; (5) picketing of non-aggressive nature to be permitted; (6) repressive ordinances issued during civil disobedience campaign to be withdrawn; (7) where property confiscated for taxes has been sold to a third party, the transaction is to be regarded as final so far as the government is concerned; (8) sale and purchase of British goods is not to be interfered with.

Preparations were already being made today by the Nationalists and their moderate friends for participation in a forthcoming round table conference to work out details of the projected Indian constitution.

Blanton in Bed. Mrs. Ralls testified under cross-examination that when she was ordered by the officer to go up the stairs after Walter, he refused to come down with her and that Blanton was in bed. Walter was standing east of the bed with a gun in his hands at the time, she said. The kind of a gun he had she could not remember. She also testified that Elijah Ralls was an excellent marksman and that the shotgun, rifle and revolver all belonged to him.

When questioned by the prosecutor, Mrs. Ralls testified that both she and Elijah went up the stairs after Walter and when questioned if an officer also went with them she did not know. She also said she did not hear an officer tell Walter to put up his hands but said that Walter held up his hands as he came down the stairs.

Police Lieutenant J. W. Walker, employed by the Pennsylvania railroad in Crawford county, was the next witness. He testified to having been present at the time Walter Ralls was questioned by officers on the day following the shooting.

Charles I. McNeal, county surveyor, Adam Stuckert, father of Deputy Stuckert, D. J. Robertson, Jailer and George J. Stuckert uncle of the deputy all testified as having witnessed the confession of the defendant. G. J. Stuckert also testified that during the taking of the testimony Walter stated that Elijah had told him to jump from the upstairs window to the porch roof and make his escape. He also testified that Walter stated during the taking of his statement that he said that "if I fired the shot it was a rifle shot. If he was shot with a shot gun, Blanton did it" and that Blanton said in the presence of Walter "You know that you had the shot gun. I had the rifle."

HEAVY SEAS DAMAGE ATLANTIC SEABOARD

New England Coast Suffers Losses Estimated at Two Millions.

BOSTON, Mass., March 5.—Fresh havoc was wrought early today by heavy seas which yesterday caused damage estimated at $2,000,000 along a 300-mile stretch of the New England coast.

The midnight high tide ruined more seaside homes, flooded and undermined scores of additional buildings, battered already weakened breakwaters, isolated two entire towns for four hours, and tore hundreds of small craft from their anchorages.

By International News Service. NEW YORK, March 5.—Atlantic seaboard towns and resorts from New Jersey to Maine today marked a trail of destruction reaped by heavy wind and sea storms. Enormous damage was done.

The most serious havoc in the New York district was at East Hampton, Long Island, where a pounding sea tore at the beach. Six homes, including that of Ring Lardner, the author, were damaged.

A high tide at New York harbor caused delayed ferryboat service and six persons were injured when one ferry crashed, against guide pilates in Brooklyn.

Ocean liners were delayed in reaching the harbor and several boats due yesterday will not dock until today. The Italian tanker Alabama reported herself drifting 400 miles off Chesapeake bay with a broken steering gear. The vessel radioed it was in no immediate danger.

Three of Family Die as Box Car Home Burns.

By International News Service. CHICAGO, Ill., March 5.—Three persons were burned to death and another narrowly escaped the same fate today when fire swept a box car home in the colony of railroad track laborers here. Three fire companies were called out to keep the flames from spreading to about 40 other box cars being used as dwellings.

Only one inhabitant of the car escaped. She is Mrs. Trinidad Espinosa, who lived through a window. The dead are Anselmo Espinosa, 41; his daughter, Angelina, 16, and Jesus Barnosora, 30, a boarder at the little home.

DIVORCES THIRD. Paul Whiteman Convicted Marriage in "Middle-Class Institution."

By The Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 5.—Marriage, says Paul Whiteman, is a middle-class institution.

"At any rate it seems to work best for those of the average mode—somewhere between the hoodlums and the bankers," said the world-known orchestra leader, whose third union has just been dissolved by divorce.

Master of modern music, pioneer of concert jazz who added a symphonic touch to the post-war dance lyrics, Whiteman found himself unable to incorporate into his private life the music which responds to his baton.

"Van" was right," he said, referring to Vanda Hoff, the dancer he married in 1922, "I'm married to a dance band."

Niles Police Graft Jury Fails to Reach Verdict.

By The Associated Press. WAHREN, O., March 5.—The jury which heard the trial of bribery charges against Patrolman Fred Henderson of Niles, O., was discharged last night when it was unable to reach a verdict. It considered the case eight hours.

Patrolman Henderson was one of several Niles policemen charged with accepting bribes to protect bootleggers there.

ROCKNE NAMED COLONEL. By International News Service. FRANKFORT, Ky., March 5.—Now it is Colonel Knute Rockne. The famous football wizard of Notre Dame has been appointed to the staff of Governor Flenk Sampson with the rank of colonel.

Relief Measure Due for Senate Passage Today. COLUMBUS, O., March 4.—The Pringle-Roberts bill, to authorize cities, counties and townships to issue emergency bonds for charity and unemployment relief, was scheduled to be brought to a vote in the senate today. It was to be a special order of business this afternoon.

"Indications are that it is certain to be approved. After that it must be returned to the house for approval of minor amendments already made in senate committee."

EPIDEMIC HITS SCHOOLS. COLUMBUS, O., March 5.—An epidemic of spinal meningitis at the Pringle and Champion public school here today caused health officials to take precautions to prevent further spread of the disease. Four pupils have succumbed to the disease, another was reported in critical condition, and also others having symptoms of the disease, were sent to the hospital.

GAS UP AGAIN

Prices Take Second One-Cent Increase Here in Few Days.

Gasoline prices were up another cent today, the second price increase in a few days. A majority of stations are charging 17 cents a gallon for regular gas and 20 cents for high-test or Ethyl gasoline today, following the increase which was general throughout the state.

A local price war forced gasoline prices down to 14 and 17 cents several months ago, but recent adjustments placed local quotations on a par with prices in other sections of the state when gasoline was listed at 16 and 19 cents.

APPROVE PACT. U. S. Tentatively Accepts Franco-Italian Naval Agreement.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 5.—The naval agreement between Italy and France, bringing all five major sea powers into line on limitation, bore today the American government's tentative approval.

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson broke silence on the new agreement late yesterday, issuing statements of praise. Mr. Hoover said it was matter for congratulation in the whole world.

The agreement's text was not at the time in the hands of the executive, but was expected to be delivered some time today by Sir Ronald Lindsay the British ambassador.

Awaiting that text Secretary Stimson expressed hope the new pact would not require revision on the London treaty, which bound the United States, Great Britain and Japan to limited naval programs. Revision would require senate ratification of amendments.

The president saw in the Franco-Italian accord at a cruxing of the naval limitation program he initiated two years ago.

TWO BOYS KILLED. Interurban Car Strikes Toy Wagon of Midland, Pa. Youth.

By United Press. MIDLAND, Pa., March 5.—Dana, 12, son of Patrick Smith, and Liberator, 9, son of Benjamin Derenzo, are dead today, as a result of fractured skulls received when a toy wagon in which they were riding, was struck by a Beaver-Steubenville interurban car here last night.

An unidentified boy who, traction officials said, was pushing the wagon, escaped uninjured. The crash occurred at a crossing.

The boys died in the Rochester, Pa., hospital.

Candy Cascarets are made from cascara—which doctors say actually strengthens the bowels. So their action is always beneficial. They clear up a stubborn, bilious, headachy and constipated condition every time. You awake with coating gone from tongue; with eyes brightened; breath sweetened; appetite on edge. For a bright morning, try a Cascarets tonight. Then you'll know why 20 million boxes are used every year.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid, arvon from any drug store. (This is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Contributions to the Red Cross drouth relief fund from Marion county stood at a total of $3,708.47 this morning, according to Miss Margaret Dowd, secretary.

By Percival Christopher Wren Author of BEAU GESTE BEAU IDEAL MYSTERIOUS WAYE

(Copyright, 1931, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.)

CHAPTER 4 Mysterious Waye

"THE law doesn't allow me to have any mad person here," replied Dr. Charters tonelessly, and with expressionless face. "Not Well, all that's your trouble, Simmy, not mine. You must have me here under observation, then, but mind I don't get mad with you, Simon."

"And what about the nurses, pray?" asked the doctor. "How can I possibly pretend that you've been here a week?" "I leave all that to you, Simon. Do you think I'm such a fool as not to suppose that at least one of your 'nurses' is—er—reliable, shall we say? Where's Frisco Fanny by the way? Do you know, I fancy there must be one or two nurses who would be quite sure I'd been here a week if you told them so. The sister-in-charge, perhaps, eh? She'd remember my coming in the station at, say 10 o'clock, a week ago this morning. You've always had such a way with the girls—even from the old Missen days, Simon."

"If you've done something against the law, and have left a trail that will bring Scotland Yard here after you, it would be perfectly impossible for me to pretend you've been here a week, even if I wished to do so," began Dr. Charters.

"Your trouble, Simmy, as I said before, I should worry," interrupted the madman. "And if they pinch me, in spite of your utmost efforts—unless you can prove that I don't know a thing about what I'm doing, you're for it."

"All very interesting," indeed, temporized the doctor, eyeing the stranger coldly. "I gather that you wish to enter this nursing-home as a mental patient; that you wish it to be supposed that you've already been here for a week; that you wish to be kept under observation, treated for mental trouble and, more particularly, for delusions, and if possible, cured."

"You've said it all, Simmy," grinned the visitor. "Well, suppose, for a start, you cure yourself—of the curious delusion that my name is Sim, Simmy or Simon."

"What is your real name, doctor?" "Er—I am Doctor Theodore Charters, M.D., London University, as you may see by reference to the medical register. Who, by the way, are you?"

"Me? Oh, I'm—er—Mr. John Waye."

"I don't remember the name."

"No, Doctor Theodore Charters. You don't remember the name, I'm sure. But you're going to."

"You're going to remember it as long as you live—and a bit longer perhaps."

Mr. John Waye was taken to a vacant room, and, having retired to bed, fell into a deep sleep.

Concerning him, Dr. Charters held long and anxious converse with Mr. James, Dr. MacAdoo, the matron of the nursing-home, and Nurse Jones.

"Mr. John Waye," emerging from his room, proceeded in the direction of the great hall whence came the sounds of a gong lustily banged by the butler.

Descending the staircase that led from the gallery, John Waye crossed to where the great Burmese temple bell boomed, beneath the blow of the padded stick.

Going down on one knee and applying his hand to his ear, he achieved the pose of The Listener.

"Dinna ye hear it?" asked the latter.

The butler swallowed and pulled himself together.

"Ar, sir," he said. "I thought I heard something too."

"What is your name?" "Board, sir. William Board."

"Thank you. Will you do something for me?"

"Certainly, sir."

"Let me know directly you find Lodging. I want to speak to him."

"Lodging," William Board murmured. "I can tell you where you'll find Lodging before long. Colney 'Atch loonatic asylum."

Entering the beautifully proportioned dining-room, once the non-austere refectory, John Waye was kindly welcomed by the matron, a buxom, kindly woman, beloved of all the patients, staff, and servants.

"Come along then, Mr. Waye," she cried, as he entered, and some 30 pairs of eyes regarded him with interest. "I've kept you a place here beside myself."

"Come along, darling," she added as Marjorie Lauderdale came in. "Come and sit by me. This is Mr. Waye. It is the first time he has been able to get up."

John Waye stared at the girl, in obvious amazement.

"Rosemary," he whispered.

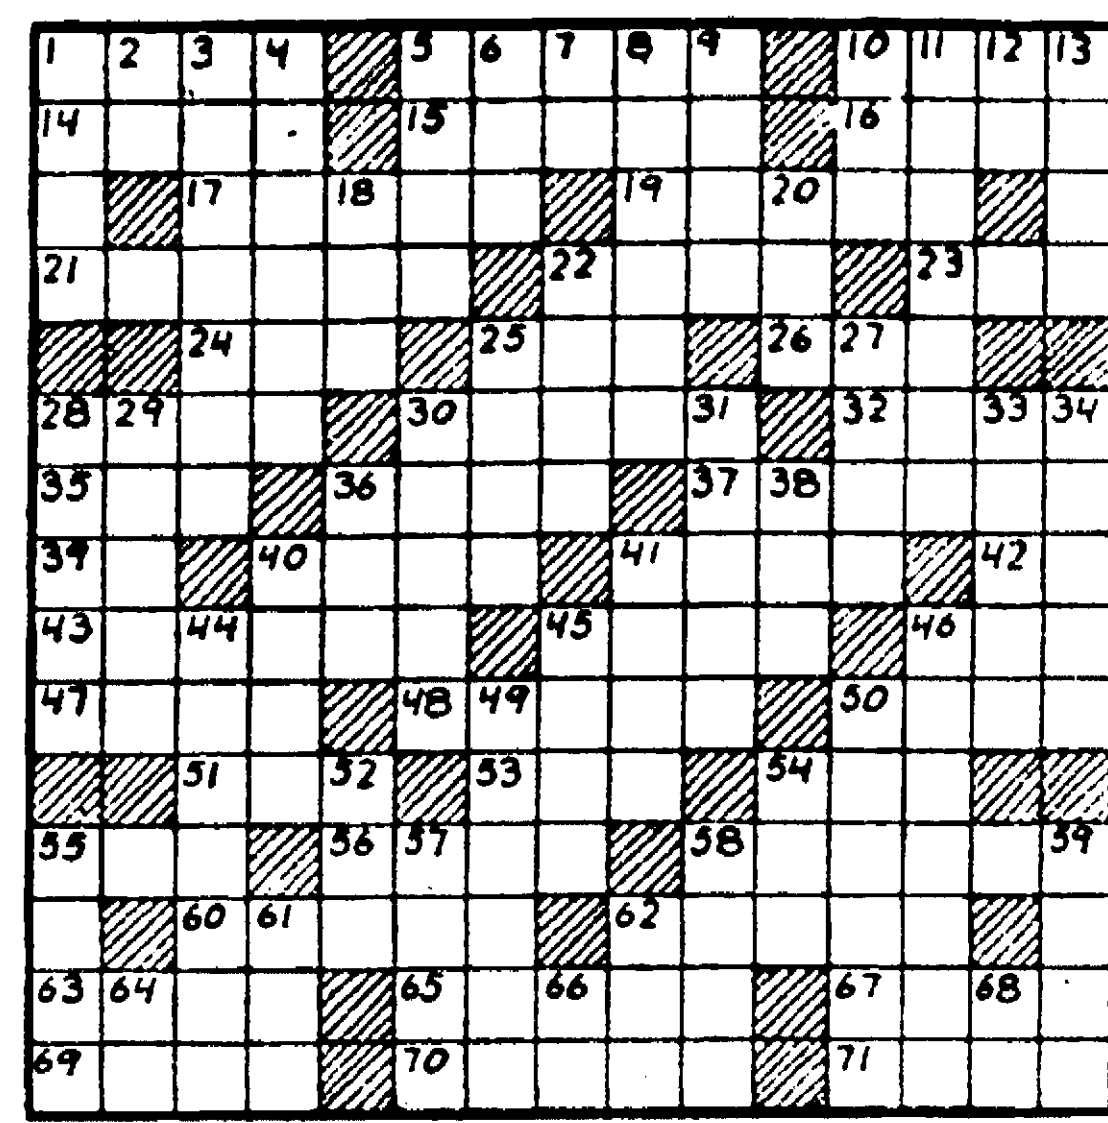

And then he bowed gravely and said:

"Good evening."

"I think Doctor Charters said you'd been here a week," continued the matron brightly, turning to John Waye.

"Yes, it must be about a week," he agreed.

Jubilee's Pardner A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

TOMORROW will be Friday, and that will be the end of the week so far as school is concerned, and I won't care and Jubilee won't care. Saturday is about the only time that a fellow that goes to school has to play with his dog, excepting in vacation, and then he is busy going swimming and climbing up to look into bird nests, and everything, so that he don't have much time to do anything but let his dog trail along. I let him down by the rope in his teeth and he got his bunch all wet again from landing in the water under the window, and he looked up at me like he would like to call me something. He hasn't got any sense, but I bet if he had let me down into some ice water I would call him something and I know what. When I had got on my short britches, and went downstairs and got the pail and went out to the barn to milk the cow and her dotter, and the bunch was waiting for me whilst I fed my face, my father said that my mother's nervous system was all shot to pieces, and when it got warm weather he was going to send her away on a trip where she could rest up and my aunt could keep house while she and Annabelle Lee were gone.

I nated him where we would go for our meals whilst my aunt kept house. He looked at me real cross like he thought I was spoofing my aunt, but when he seen that I meant it he said we would make out all right. My grandfather said I ought to be ashamed. He said my aunt could prepare breakfast food as good as anybody. My aunt got mad at something and said that if she was keeping house she knewed what she would feed them, and then he said she would have to feed it to him if he eat it. Then Feeble butted in and said that he ought to send my mother right now while it was cold enough for her to wear her winter coat, because she looks so spiffy in that beautiful garment that she would beat everyone would think she was Annabelle Lee's sister instead of her mother. Then my mother got up from the table and went and put on her coat and marched back and forth kinda dragging one foot after the other in a slink sort of a way.

My mother is beautiful, and I don't like to have Feeble spoof her like that. She made a jump to get in my mother's chair at the table, but my grandfather's flat wheel was sticking out so she stumbled over his foot and hit my mother's chair with her chin, and my mother threw her coat on the lounge and hugged Feeble and told her to never mind, and Feeble looked cross-eyed and said my grandfather had it in for her. My grandfather said that all she needed to make her a good little girl was a darn good spanking. Then my aunt said that was right, blame Feeble for his own clumsiness. So I grabbed my hat and sked out before I got blamed for something.

"Heart of a Wife" BY ABILE GARRISON

The "Long Arm of Coincidence" ONE special delivery for Mary and one for Marion. Jerry Tier proclaimed at the top of his voice as he came up the veranda steps—it is wasted time to expect defiance and decorum from play-boy Jerry, who nevertheless is of the material described as "salt of the earth."

"And two letters for you, Miss Graham, and three for Miss Underwood, and two for Miss Underwood and four for Miss Graham, and two of those ones with funny stamps for Miss Bickett. Oh, yes, and there's some magazines in the car. I'll go get 'em."

He hurried down the steps while we looked at the postmarks on our letters. I knew by the decision with which Lillian put hers aside that they were from clients wishing work, and she has an odd little trait that she never will open a professional communication unless it is a telegram, except during the hours which she sets aside for her work.

Lucky's, I knew from the superintention, were from art editors, and mine were perfunctory notes from women whose chirography I knew, and whose messages would keep indefinitely. But Katherine's I picked them up with a feeling of unreality—surely Dicky would describe this as the "long arm of Old Man Coincidence working overtime" for one was in Hal Meredith's writing with a New-England postmark, while the other had come from that wild part of South America where Jack Bickett was working, but his handwriting was not on the envelope. I was rising to take it up to her, when I heard excited voices upon the stairs, and the next instant Mary and Marion appeared on the veranda in the blazie costumes which modern girls affect regardless of past fashions of decorum, unstockinged feet hastily thrust into slippers, silken petticoats covered but not disclosed by beach robes.

But Jerry Tier, unlike many of the "natives" is used to modern feminine dress or undress—and besides he is so much a member of the household that the girls pay no more attention to him than they would to Jim or Kate.

"Who said speed delivery?" they caroled in unison. "Morning, Jerry."

"Morning, Girls!" he answered—he makes it a point of honor to give back the same salutation he receives, and then he held them let 'em up above his head.

"Seems to me those fellows of yours mustn't have anything to do except write letters," he said, "and no way of spending their money except to pay it out for special delivery stamps. What good does special delivery get you out here on the farm? The man at the post office just sticks 'em into your box with the rest of the mail, and you don't get 'em one mile sooner. You'd better tell your young men to save their money to pay a hired girl with. Neither of you'll ever want to cook or wash dishes, I'll bet."

"Why, Jerry, Tier?" Marion protested. "Aren't you ashamed of yourself? I'm going back to Whitney Hall for another year, though I'm ready for college, just to take a P. G. course in Domestic Science. You wait till I come home my first vacation. I'll bake you some biscuits."

"Love's Young Dream" "Biscuits! You! Ha ha! That's a good one!" Jerry guffawed and brought down the hand that held the letters with the evident intention of striking his other hand with them for emphasis. But Mary, who as her uncle says, "has any cat-tled" to the post for quickness and agility, sprang and caught the letters as his arm descended, and danced back toward the doorway.

"Thanks for the tip, Jerry," she called back. "We'll pass it on to the boy friends."

"That's the time she did you, Jerry," Marion added maliciously. "Serves you right for making fun of my biscuits!"

She followed Mary up the stairs, and Jerry, with no further prospect of gallery to enliven his morning, went around the house to the kitchen, while Lillian, carefully skirting the topic of Katherine's letters, which neither of us wished to discuss, took refuge in smiling comment upon the eagerness of the young girls for their mail.

"I was wrong when I said nothing would drag them out of bed before three o'clock in the afternoon," she said. "There must be some sort of telepathy about those letters to bring them down this early, for I'll swear even Jerry's calloppe voice wouldn't waken ordinarily."

"They were expecting them, I think," I explained, laughing, "and therefore 'subconsciously' wakened at Jerry's voice. You see when nobody goes for the mail in the evening, as happened last night, Jerry always gets it on that early trip to the Harbor while he makes every morning for his father. And, of course, you must remember it's all of twenty-four hours since either of them had a special delivery."

She shrugged her shoulders and her lips twisted into a wry smile. "Love's young dream," she commented banally, and I knew that her mind was not back of the words, but was rebelling at the extent of her young daughter's infatuation for the youthful adoration proffered her by Ronald Britton.

"I must take Katherine her letters," I said awkwardly, and hurried away.

How to Get Relief From Catarrh

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises, go to Henney & Cooper or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Earmin (Double Strength); take this home, add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing becomes easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.—Adv.
